MARKET COMMENTARY

The fund generated positive returns for the period as global bond markets remained resilient despite the increased volatility due to geopolitical tensions, slowing growth and rising fiscal concerns. During this period, High Yield outperformed government bonds and Investment grade credit. Neuberger Berman Emerging Market Debt Hard Currency was the leading contributor to performance for the period benefitting from its exposure to US high yield. Conversely, CIBC Global Floating Rate Credit lagged all other holdings for the period weighed down by its exposure to Investment grade credit.
