MARKET COMMENTARY

Philippine stocks declined for the fourth consecutive month in October, with the PSEi remaining below 6,000 amid persistent foreign outflows, a weakening peso, and concerns over slower growth due to corruption issues. Trading volumes were subdued, and the peso hit a new low before closing the month down 0.64%. The index fell 0.40% MoM and 9.18% YTD, with notable declines in property and banking stocks, while ICTSI and Meralco gained on positive earnings outlooks and foreign inflows. Market sentiment remains bearish, influenced by corruption scandals and slower 3Q GDP growth, though macro indicators such as modest inflation, sustained remittances, and a potential BSP rate cut support the recovery narrative. Fiscal data shows some improvement, but the overall budget deficit widened, reflecting ongoing fiscal pressures.
