MARKET COMMENTARY<sup>9</sup>

The WisdomTree U.S. Quality Dividend Growth Fund gained modestly in October but underperformed the S&P 500 Index. U.S. equities continued their six-month rally amid ongoing government shutdowns and a cautious economic outlook. The macroeconomic environment remained resilient, with inflation slightly below forecasts and signs of softening in labor markets, while Q3 earnings season showed strong momentum, potentially marking four consecutive quarters of double-digit earnings growth. DGRW's underperformance was primarily due to its sector positioning, notably underweighting the strong-performing Information Technology sector and overweighting Consumer Staples, which declined during the month. These allocation effects negatively impacted the fund's relative returns in October.

Since the target fund is USD-denominated, the return of this peso share class fund was significantly higher than that of its dollar share class as the Philippine peso weakened against the US dollar.
