MARKET COMMENTARY

Global stocks rose in October with emerging markets benefitting the most as sentiment focuses on a dovish Fed looking to cut interest rates to further support robust economic growth. Japanese equities also performed well, boosted by pro-growth reforms. U.S. stocks benefitted from strong tech earnings and AI-driven growth, with growth stocks outperforming value. Fixed income markets benefited from rate cuts, with emerging market bonds and U.S. municipal bonds gaining, reflecting the search for higher yields. The fund maintained its equity position at 63%, focusing on large-cap, cash-flow-generative growth companies, especially in technology and AI, complemented by holdings in Healthcare, Energy, and Financials. Sector adjustments included diversifying within technology and increasing exposure to med-tech and pharmaceuticals. Communication Services, despite a recent decrease, remains a top overweight due to its long-term AI growth potential.

Since the target fund is USD-denominated, the return of this peso share class fund was significantly higher than that of its dollar share class as the Philippine peso weakened against the US dollar.
