MARKET COMMENTARY

Global equities rose in December, led by European and Chinese markets amid steady ECB policies and positive manufacturing data signaling a recovery in China's industrial sector. U.S. stocks ended the year near all-time highs despite a weak final month, with value stocks and cyclical sectors outperforming, while defensive sectors lagged. Fixed income markets exhibited mixed performance; credit improved, but longer-maturity bonds underperformed due to rising rates, though high-yield bonds benefited from U.S. economic resilience. International bonds, including emerging markets, gained on signs of inflation stabilization and a weaker U.S. dollar. Overall, the month reflected cautious optimism driven by improved economic signals and moderating inflation, supporting a modest risk-on tone for the coming period.

Since the target fund is USD-denominated, the return of this peso share class fund was slightly affected by a slight movement between the Philippine peso and the US dollar.

FOOTNOTES

¹ Quoted Asset Management Charge is inclusive of Fund Manager, Custodian and Fund Administration fees and VAT. Please note that the target fund of the Fund charges a separate management fee which is included in the computation of the Fund's NAVPU.

² Volatility measures the degree to which the Fund fluctuates vis-à-vis its average return in a specific period. The lower the number, the more stable the Fund's return is.

³ The Fund targets a 4.00% annualized payout rate (2.00% semi-annually), which is not guaranteed and may change at the discretion of AXA Philippines.

⁴ Price return refers to the fund performance based on the NAVPU movement of the fund with the payout deducted from NAVPU.

⁵ Total return refers to the fund performance based on the NAVPU movement of the fund with the dividend payouts taken into account as reinvested back to the fund value.

⁶ Cumulative returns is the total earnings performance of the fund in a specific period.

⁸ Dividend history reflects the payout rate and not the dividend yield.
